The 2nd edition of SAE will be convening once again in November 2012. The popular event will witness the congregation of some of the most sought-after regional buyers, security distributors, system integrators, security consultants and end-users in the Southeast Asia region. Serving as your gateway to the Southeast Asia market, SAE continues to act as a sourcing platform for the most advanced and innovative world security solutions that provide world security manufacturers with an ideal platform to tap into the Southeast Asia market.

Manufacturers, regional distributors and integrators who are providing the following solutions, but no limited to, are participating in SAE 2012. No matters whether your objectives are to look for new business partners or promoting your brands and solutions directly to the end-users in Southeast Asia, you can be assured SAE 2012's Buyers & Sellers Programme will achieve that for you by arranging business appointments between you and your target buyers.
